

STOP THE FAR RIGHT

UNITE AGAINST RACISM, ISLAMOPHOBIA & ANTISEMITISM

We can stop the far right. But we need to get organised.

This summer saw far right riots and attacks on mosques, refugees and migrants. Mass anti-fascist protests across the country drove them back. But we can't be complacent.

The context is one in which the far right can grow, from Trump in the US to fascist parties riding high in the polls across Europe. And in Britain for the first time, a far right party, Reform UK, has MPs in parliament.

Mobilising the anti-racist majority can stop them. Anti-fascist protests have pushed the far right back and shown what's possible. Deepening that movement is an urgent task.

Stand Up to Racism brings together anti-racists, trade unionists, faith groups, MPs, campaigners, students and more to unite against racism, Islamophobia, antisemitism and the far right. Be part of it.

Paloma Faith, Kate Nash, Jeremy Corbyn MP, Diane Abbott MP & over 10,000 people have signed our unity statement against the far right:

Fascist riots have taken place in towns and cities across Britain leading to attacks on mosques and hotels housing migrants. Tommy Robinson mobilised over 15,000 in Trafalgar Square on 27 July. The far right are spreading racism, Islamophobia and hatred.

Robinson and others are attempting to exploit the horrific knife attack in Southport to stir up Islamophobia and sow division by spreading misinformation about the attacker's identity. This led to a racist mob rioting in Southport and elsewhere, violently attacking the mosques and police, chanting the same hateful slogans heard on Robinson's London demonstration.

Racism and Islamophobia in Parliament is leading to racism and Islamophobia on the streets. When Robinson asked his London protest who voted for Nigel Farage and Reform UK, almost every hand went up. Suella Braverman emboldened this latest iteration of fascist mobilisations, with her claims of an "Islamist" threat, policing "double standards" and refugee "invasion" inflammatory rhetoric.

Across Europe we see the rise of far right and fascist forces, from Marine Le Pen in France to the AfD in Germany.

The far right are a threat to all decent people. The trial of Finsbury Park terrorist Darren Osborne, who murdered Makram Ali, heard that he was radicalised by reading material by Tommy Robinson. When Robinson was leader of the English Defence League, it attacked Muslims, trade unions and strikes.

All those who oppose this must join in a united mass movement powerful enough to drive back the fascists. The majority of people in Britain abhor Robinson and the far right.

We are the majority, they are the few. Britain has a proud history of defeating fascists and racists. We can defeat them again. We must Stand Up to Racism, Islamophobia and antisemitism. We must unite and mobilise against the far right and fascism.
